

4/9/20 CI Music Hour Prep

Hi all,

Alex Melzer will be joining us for our weekly music hour at 4 pm (Pacific Time). Alex is pursuing a Master of Music Degree in Trombone Performance from USC's Thornton School of Music. A link is provided below so you can learn more about Alex. He will play several pieces and demonstrate differences between different types of trombones. We also plan to discuss our active listening experiences from the past week, as we agreed to try and listen to music attentively and try to describe some of the nuances of what sounds good or bad with the implant compared to what we remember. For that part, we agreed to listen to (I can't get no) Satisfaction as a common song and discuss our impressions. I am looking forward to it!
