Beatrice Opoku-Asare (Newmont Mining).

Before moving to the US from Ghana, Beatrice led a team with accountability for Newmont's Africa Region talent management, inclusion and diversity, global mobility, HR technology, talent acquisition, and facilities management. She is an environmental scientist by training, has also worked in Health, Safety and Talent Management within the technology and mining industries. She is passionate about being an enabler of successful teams and individuals.

Beatrice is married to Gabriel with whom she has two children; a 5-year old daughter and a 3-year old son. She is currently the Global Director, Inclusion and Diversity for Newmont Mining Corporation, working from the company's Colorado corporate office.

Her role involves partnering with the Board of Directors, executives and each operating region globally to build an inclusive workplace where differences and similarities are respected, valued and leveraged to achieve Newmont's strategy and purpose.

Personal thoughts on Diversity: "Diversity is the unique superpowers we each bring and the advantages of these superpowers can ONLY be leveraged within inclusive environments where we feel comfortable that what makes us different is celebrated and viewed as an asset."
