

Susan Robinson
Senior Director of Sustainability and Policy

Susan Robinson leads WM's Sustainability Team. In this role, she is responsible for WM's sustainability policy, advocacy and reporting. Her 30+ years in the industry includes work in the public sector, non-profit environmental work, consultancy, and over 25 years in the private sector. Susan's experience includes global commodity marketing, research and analysis of industry trends, and twenty years managing municipal solid waste and recycling contracts.

Susan is active on several boards including the American Institute for Packaging and Environment (Ameripen), the Southeast Recycling Development Council (SERDC), as well as the ReFED Advisory Council.

Susan attended Stanford University and holds a B.S. in Applied Earth Sciences from the University of Washington. Her Masters work in Environmental Studies is from The Evergreen State College.