Objective: In this course, you will learn how to create computer models of discrete event systems, and how to use these models to make decisions about the design/improvement of the actual physical systems that the models represent. You will learn how to evaluate a business system and identify the input and output variables. You will learn how to evaluate field data to obtain input information and how to evaluate output predictions from the simulation model to select effective operating policies.

Text: Khoshnevis and Palmer, Discrete Systems Simulation, reader

Course Material: Chapters 1-6 of the text, plus topics discussed in lecture by the instructor

Grading Policies:

Points Breakdown -

Homework	120
Project	150
Exam #1	115
Exam #2	115
Subtotal	500
Final Exam	150

Course GRADES will be determined by the distribution of point totals for the class. “Natural groupings” will be used to assign letter grades. The highest scoring group will receive A’s, the next group is the B’s, and so on. A single point will not be the difference between any two letter grades. A “gap” must exist to create a grade boundary.

HOMEWORK assignments will be due on the following Thursdays:

August 30; September 6, 13, 20; October 11, 18, 25; November 8

Late homework will be accepted until noon on the Friday following the original due date. Homework will be graded on an “all or nothing” basis. If a paper shows an answer to each assigned exercise that uses approximately the correct method, the grade for the assignment is 15 points. If any exercise is unacceptable, the paper will be returned with no points awarded. Completions of returned assignments will be accepted for full credit until noon on the Friday after the assignment is returned to the class.

An EXAM will be given on each of the following dates:

Thursday, September 27 and Thursday, November 15

Each exam will cover the material presented up to and including the preceding homework assignment. Points will be assigned to each section of the exam. Partial credit will be awarded according to work shown. No re-takes will be allowed. No make-up exam will be given.

A PROJECT will be due in two parts on the following dates:

Part I – Thursday, November 1

Part II – Tuesday, November 27

The project will involve development and validation of a computer simulation model. For this project, you will work with an assigned partner. The project assignment will be distributed about five weeks in advance of the Part I due date.

Your team's system description and model layout will be due on Tuesday, October 16.

A Peer Review of another team's system description will be due on Tuesday, October 23.

The FINAL EXAM is scheduled for Tuesday, December 11 at 11:00-1:00. It will be comprehensive and will be graded similarly to the other exams. A student may elect to omit the final exam, if both exams and the project have been completed.

Academic Conduct:

Plagiarism – presenting someone else’s ideas as your own, either verbatim or recast in your own words – is a serious academic offense with serious consequences. Please familiarize yourself with the discussion of plagiarism in SCampus in Part B, Section 11, “Behavior Violating University Standards” <https://policy.usc.edu/scampus-part-b/>. Other forms of academic dishonesty are equally unacceptable. See additional information in SCampus and university policies on scientific misconduct, <http://policy.usc.edu/scientific-misconduct>.
