Establishes a high level of data quality through rigorous auditing and analysis of data used in software development lifecycle processes, and maintains high levels through automated monitoring. Analyzes problems by performing root cause analyses and tracing the flow of data to its sources. Collaborates with data owners and subject matter experts to identify and recommend options for problem resolution and prevention.
Supports the development and maintenance of data quality documentation (e.g., standards, protocols, frameworks), working collaboratively with team members, stakeholders, and vendors to track data changes. Assesses and communicates potential downstream ramifications of data changes or issues. Stays current with emerging and disruptive data quality, integration and management technologies and leading-edge practices, working closely with team members and management to implement effective integration solutions.
Empathizes and advocates for the customer point of view when identifying priorities and presenting solutions. Handles customer issues and complaints, routing them to the appropriate party for tracking and resolution. Gains customer insights into pain points, challenges and needs, seeks to deliver quality solutions, and builds and maintains effective customer relationships by providing timely follow-ups.
Supports the enterprise data and analytics team vision, leveraging industry expertise while participating in continuous innovation and improvement efforts. Aids the cultivation of an inclusive, transparent culture and environment, sharing information broadly, and deliberately, and actively embodies ITS values and behaviors (e.g., accountability, ethics, best-in-class customer service). Builds and maintains strong, collaborative relationships with diverse groups of peers, customers, and leaders to ensure consistent, reliable service is delivered to a range of university stakeholders.
